First real unexplained paranormal experience

submitted 2 months ago by blab376

So I work as a security guard at an intelligence company and I'm on the night watch which is 6pm to 6am. There's 3 buildings on the lot that is completely surrounded by fence with alarms and only 1 gate to get onto the lot which is manned 24/7. The lot has been closed for a week due to Covid and no one has been on or off other than security personnel. All buildings are locked at all times since no one is there to work.

I was doing my rounds in one of the buildings and as I was leaving I heard an office door slam shut. I am the only one doing rounds and everyone else is at their posts. I asked, "Who's in here?" and received no response. As I started to walk towards where I heard the noise I heard a man say, "I'm sorry." But it was right next to my ear. I can only describe the voice as a deep/raspy sarcastic sound that sent chills through my whole body. I immediately turned to see who was there but no one was.

I immediately called the gate and they said no one's been on and then called the alarm monitor and he said he had received nothing. I swept the whole building and no office doors were closed in the entire building. I left and sat in my truck watching the two entrances/exits for the rest of my shift and no one ever left.

I will never forget the sound of that man's voice in my ear.

Damn - reminds me of when I was in our Parliamentary building (construction completed in 1884) to assist with a project a few years back. I hate being there, too much history & definitely not good history.

It was also at night (9 or 10pm-ish) and my team and I (IT - always first in and last to leave lol) were on standby and I was looking for the bathroom which is down the long dark-wooded old-smelling hall. Did a door slam? Yes. Did I walk towards the door and listen trying to not be freaked out? Yes. Did I hear something? A cough, actually.

I was almost relieved, and I peeked through the side window as I walked past to continue my mission and saw the lights were off, it looked like people stored years worth of paper and boxes in there. I tried the door and it was locked. So, I noped all the way back to the Light and held it in.

I used to work for a paramilitary security contractor at a decently old nuclear plant. We would get an alarm periodically on a door that almost no one ever used. Am older lieutenant said it was "whistler's ghost"

I've had similar experiences working law enforcement and security. Shook.

Isn't it so odd just a voice not attached to nothing but you hear it, you know it's there right by you??? Me and my bestfriend got screamed at by a voice right behind and above us, just right there and no nody at all but that fucking voice was real. Where do they come from???? How do they know things??? Like in my old house a voice kept calling my name trying to lure me downstairs but it used my stepdads voice at first and then it started screaming my name at the top of it's lungs i had an invisible "monster" (demon) make a LOUD noise in a small room in front of two other people that tried to play it off ... but they couldn't because it was WAY too loud. It was like a moan and a roar at the same time. It shook the atmosphere in the room. No way a human could have made that sound.

Wtf that would scare tf outta me, thank god my bestfriend didn't try to deny it, we both were so shocked we looked at each other and took tf off...the next time we experienced something together a ring looking girl crawled out of the bathroom to us. We were on the floor by the bathroom at a birthday party at night. I'm so glad she was there and seen and heard this shit with me because it solidifies it was real for both of us. I don't understand how these things can do this stuff. Where were you when it made that noise? Why lol why why why why does it happen, lol i was standing in a room that was inside a trailer. I had just been in the room right next to the room i was currently in when i heard this noise and there was absolutely NO BODY in there! A human could NOT have made this noise anyway! It sounded EXACTLY like what you would think that a monster would sound like. It was like "RoaaaahhhrrrrrttRoahrrrrerree". It was VERY DEEP sounding. It was just SO , like just SO EVERYWHERE, ALL in the room. And it just kept on "moaning" and "ROARING" for like 10 seconds. I looked at those other two dudes and they had that "stereotypical look on their faces" like you would see someone in the movies make when they got "caught at something" and they were like "uh ohhh" .. like I wasn't supposed to have heard that thing. Then one dude pointed up in the air while he had that "stretched out , uh-ohhhh face" and before that happened they were acting like they weren't even paying attention to what i was saying. Then they started acting like they wanted to rob me or something because they kept asking me to take them somewhere but when i asked them where they kept telling me different places every time i asked. I then grabbed a big mag- light out of my car and they hung their heads down and walked back in the house. i have NEVER been back to their trailer since!

100% TRUTH. i will take a lie detector test at ANY TIME and if i am lying, i will let a chicken doo doo 🐔 in my mouth. i have had LOTS of extreme demonic encounters. THIS one is just one of the more , like 100% no way AT ALL its not a demon experiences. i have had a few. This has been one of the reasons that I ABSOLUTELY know that JESUS CHRIST is real and that HE is the ONE and ONLY GOD. ... if not for HIM the demons would have killed me or made me kill myself by now. One time i was literally trying to make a deal to sell my soul and for some reason i got real scared, like i just KNEW something BAD was close to me. I hadn't seen or heard anything at the moment, though i suddenly got TERRIFIED like i just KNEW a demon or demons were in the room with me. i said "JESUS help me " and AS SOON as i said it there was a little "scuffling" sound followed by a LOUD bang in the room right next to me. i ran out of the house, got in my car , went to a girls house and was telling her about it. i told her that i had to stop listening to "devil" music and RIGHT THEN the car radio and the Bluetooth on my phone TURNED ON BY ITSELF, playing the EXACT DEVIL MUSIC that i was talking about! I cut the radio off and it came back on , then i cut the Bluetooth off and the radio. It stayed off until i pulled up in her driveway and then THE BLUETOOTH AND RADIO CAME BACK ON AGAIN! She started screaming at the radio.

I believe you

Oddly enough my paranormal experiences have made me less believe in God. I mean I do believe there might be a God but I don't think it's the way the bible explains it. And I also don't think demons are real, which they very well could be but it's hard for me to imagine something being all good or all bad... This is after believing in all of it all my life, I guess I'm on my journey of knowledge still lol

I believe you though, I've had the same stuff happen but that fucking voice was real. Where do they come from???? How do they know things???

I don't know how they know, but I do know what you're talking about. I honestly think that some Spirits are simply stuck here, and that they can both see us and hear us. They really are trying to just get our attention and communicate. You see, I am clairaudient, and I can hear voices on recorded media, such as on my favorite paranormal YouTube channels. I only hear them with people who are "sensitive" to begin with, who perhaps experienced the paranormal while growing up, because those people seem to "attract" a lot more spirit activity.

Sometimes I hear the voices in real time, calling my name or saying something to me, but that's not too often. But I hear those whispers on recorded video, and I don't know why. At times the YouTuber or a viewer will hear the same thing that I hear, so I know I'm not insane. I just seem to be able to hear at a different frequency (??) than most other folks.

I know it sounds crazy, but I hear a real variety of talk: Spirits answering questions relevantly, Spirits bullying one another or swearing, Spirits having conversations and arguing amongst one another. They ask for help a lot, and it makes me sad to think someone is in need but they aren't being heard at the time of the recording.

It's amazing what I can hear sometimes, and sometimes I'll even write it all down and send what I hear to the YouTuber. But I wonder if anyone else out there has the same experiences that I do? I'd love to find answers to my questions; sometimes I feel very alone. :/

TL;dr: I hear disembodied voices

I'm sorry I wish I could relate to the video thing but I think I shut my whatever it is off...I mean I'm not sure I ever had anything to begin with, I think it just followed me for whatever reason lol and it was all so scary. I was scared every night thinking something would be there to scare me. I have wanted to experience it again because I feel like what if it wasn't real even though I know it was because my bestfriend was there for alot of it...

On the video's do you hear it when people are having evp's or just any video? I do wonder why some people are revealed too...I don't necessarily feel like this stuff is a gift, more that we are revealed it for whatever reason...Because if you think about this shit could pop up and show itself to anybody so why us??? Where are they existing and why????????????????????? Why kids mainly too It's so confusing to me lol

Just people being people, even after the death of the body. I think of them wandering around in a grey zone, not willing to move on or perhaps unaware they are in Spirit. I think many of them are afraid to move on, still influenced by the fear of death, even after they are dead.

Yes, I think the exact same thing! Thank you for describing it so well!

The conversations that I hear are many times people just talking to each other. They threaten, they cajole, they plot, they tell investigators and each other to "get out" or "shut up" or "f-off" or "run". They speak in full sentences, as well. They are varied: men, women, old and young. Sometimes children. There is one voice that I have dubbed "Androgyny" because it is neither distinct male or distinct female, and it is present in almost every video.

And on video, (many times) they are constantly talking. If I'm writing down my findings, it's not uncommon to have caught two-and-a-half pages of chatter in a half hour episode. Mostly relevant to the investigation, too.

I guess I just need to know that others out there believe, or that they can sometimes hear what I hear. Someone once suggested that it was aural pareidolia, but I know that it's not. I know what I hear. And I consider it a gift.

I don't know of any other subreddits out there that would understand, but thank you all for letting me vent. :)

Eyes closed or ignorance is my best policy. You can't see in the dark anyways.

I hear things like this but most demons don't have a shape so you can't see them anyways.

At least you can ease your body because the demon hasn't tried to hurt you.

Relax and expect that EVERYONE will experience similar.

Knowing that you aren't alone is the security. No harm no foul.
