Sleep App Recorded Sentence - Can You Help Decipher It?

This audio is quiet, despite my best efforts to boost the volume through apps on my phone. You might have to listen at max volume and/or with headphones.

I'm going to start out by saying that I'm pretty sure this voice is my partner's. It kinda sounds like it could be his voice... If he was possessed, haha. You have to laugh because otherwise it's terrifying!

I showed him the audio and it creeped him out. He didn't seem convinced at first that it was his voice. He was unable to tell what the sentence was and we decided to post it to see if anyone could understand it.

This was recorded by my sleep app (Sleep As Android) on 10/9/2020.

It's just me, my partner and two cats in the apartment.

My partner only speaks English (he took languages in school ((French? IIRC - he's asleep, so I can't confirm right now))), but can't actually speak in other languages.

Can you tell what the sentence is, English or otherwise?

Thanks in advance!

Note: tagged as EVP, wasn't sure what to tag it with.

I kinda here the word song at the end. Can i ask why you record audio at night? Is it just an interest or has other things happened?

I use a sleep tracking app (Sleep As Android) that auto records audio whenever there is sound to record. It's supposed to let you know how much you're snoring during the night, but I had been using it to see how much I was coughing while asleep (asthma, smoker, etc. - the sleep coughing was getting bad).

Haven't used it since the end of October, however.

I took two years of Latin in high school, and I have to say that it was my first thought. But since Latin is the foundation for many languages it's hard to say. French would be my next guess. Either way, it isn't recognizable to me. I'll see if I can tap a Latin expert I know.

It definitely sounds like words, but I'm not sure it's English. My first thought is that maybe it's Italian, but I can't make it out well enough to say one way or another.

That is crazy. It doesn't sound like English to me. He was prob just mumbling in his sleep

I mean, that's the most likely and rational explanation.

He has talked in his sleep a few times (it does not happen often - we've lived together for ten years), but it's always been clearly English, even if slurred or mumbled.

You can tell what he's saying on the occasions that he does talk in his sleep.

That's part of the reason why I'm so curious to know if this recording actually says anything.
