Question

My baby is seeing something or just my mind?

(self.Paranormal)

Hello guys!

As some of you know I'm right now in one house really far from my home country (from Spain to Poland) and as I mentioned in other post I think something from the old house were i was living followed me or something because since I have my baby (8 months old female) things little bit weird has occurred, for example lights turning on and off suddenly when we are all in the room, steps sometimes in the corridor, shadows that my wife has seen near kitchen and the worst in our opinion, laughs and a deep male voice in her room one day she was a little bit sick.

Recently we moved her to her room and even when she sleeps almost all night sometimes she wakes up in the middle of the night and she stares all time to the same point, she babbles and she is "trying" to touch something. The point she stares at doesn't have any toy, blind, etc.. Is a normal corner with a chair.

Also we have caught her crawling everytime we leave her to the same point, she sits down in the front of that corner and again the same, babbles, laughs, etc.. This sometimes happens in the kitchen, where my wife saw like a shadow... We don't know what to think, we have searched on internet about it but there is no exactly answer and well, I belive that something maybe is with her or she sees something.

I would like to clarify that this is not always good, sometimes she cries horribly when she stares at that point or she tries to run

Young children often can see and communicate with spirits then we grow up and lose the ability .

A lot of babies do that. My niece did that until she was few months old. It passes with time. Never knew what it was tho. Maybe their brain is still in development and is not fully functional yet and maybe in the meantime they're seeing things that are not here, like having a dream but awaken.

When she's old enough to talk ask her about it and make sure the being doesn't speak with her. When I was a baby my mom said I always babbled with my face up against the air vents. Once I was old enough to talk I told her "the boy in the vents asked me to go with him, can I go?" She said no tell him to go without you and that it's not your time to go yet. So I did and I never spoke to the vents again. But I believe something groomed me from an infant until I was old enough to give a yes or no. I'm just glad I asked my mom first and didn't just say yah let's go!

Another time I was in my room my parents were in their room upstairs it was 7 in the morning I woke up and I see to my left someone or some sort of shadow figure was behind my curtain but it disappeared when I looked and finally I always heard chairs moving and cabinets closing and opening downstairs where the kitchen is at I would tell my parents and they would check but see nothing expect the chairs actually moved but nobody there they couldn't hear it but I can strange isn't it.

Probably a demon, but don't quote me on this. It seems like it tries to get a connection to your daughter and probably act "nice" so when your daughter grows, the demon will have her trust and also a host to possess. (Hard for me to explain, English isn't my first language) However the demon usually possesses or harms not the child itself at the beginning but rather the parents. It hasn't harmed you guys in any way? No bruises forming for no reason? No bitemarks? Has this form been aggressive in any way? Like I said at the top, I'm not sure, but that's what I think it is. Wish you guys good luck
