Numerous black cat sightings over the years. Possibly attached to my wife.

I'm a little on the fence regarding a lot of paranormal things, but I definitely think there's some things that defy explanation at this time. This is one of those things.

My wife and I have been married and living together for around 17 years now, and in that time a lot of weird things have happened around us in each and every place we've lived. This includes 4 apartments and one house we lived in, and both parents houses.

I'll get to the black cat in a moment, but I'll also list a few other things first. A disembodied black hand that flicked the back of my head one day when I came home, a malfunctioning fire alarm going off in a spot where there is no longer a fire alarm, ghostly looking legs (but no body) in the middle of the highway when we were driving late one night. Also electronics my wife uses tend to die much faster than anything I use, and they have a tendency to break very easily whenever she's extremely upset. Lastly, my wife seems to have a sixth sense for when I'm doing something she wouldn't approve of or if I may be in danger. I sometimes wondered if someone or something was attached to her that would somehow put the thought in her head.

Now finally on to the black cat. We've both seen in multiple times. Usually it's just a quick glimpse while walking around the house and then it's gone. We do have 3 of our own cats, 2 of them black, but there have been so many incidents where one of us saw a black cat, only to realize the "real" cats are all in another room, or huddled around us.

There have been several sightings recently. My wife has cancer, and when she was in the hospital for a week or so post surgery she saw it several times. When she finally came back home we set her up to sleep in a recliner in a spare room while I slept in our room with all of the cats. She was laying back in the recliner and saw a black cat. Instinctively she reached down to call it over for pets, just like she would do with one of our cats, but it ran off into the shadows on the other side of the room. That was the most prolonged and direct sighting yet. And finally two days ago, I was leaving our bedroom to go get her a drink from the kitchen. As soon as I opened the bedroom door and stepped out I saw it from the corner of my eye. When I turned to face it there was nothing. At this point all of our cats were closed up in a spare bedroom, and yes, I did check to make sure they were all still there.

That brings us up to the present, and me wondering if this is something that's always been with us, but maybe it took us a while to really notice.

Now here's the weirdest part, which I just heard about 2 days ago when we were talking about it. Wife's sister, who lives in her own house with her own family and no pets, has also occasionally seen a black cat. And now I'm wondering if it's something following the both of them.

I keep feeling pressure on my bed as if something small is walking on it. Has anyone experienced a ghost cat or could it be a spirit manifesting as something small?
