Boyfriend and I are losing our linds

(self.Paranormal)

EDIT: meant to write 'losing our MINDS' hahaha oops

Hi! normally I just read along and never put anything on reddit, but now I need your advice ..

I've been living together in a temporary home since last May (until our new home is ready) and weird things have been happening lately.

things disappear: countless times our things have disappeared and suddenly put in a completely different place. my ring was lost, looked everywhere, 4 days later it lies in the bathroom in a place where I am every day and look and it was never there. My watch has gone missing, looked everywhere and still cannot be found. My boyfriend's car key has been lost, it is no longer where it was last night. nowhere to be found. and there are other little things that 'suddenly' disappear.

things break just like that: my boyfriend had a new phone, 3 weeks later? Broken. our washing machine that has always worked? we live here and it breaks down. (shit happens, so we ordered a new one) new washing machine? broken after 2 weeks! the lamp in the kitchen fell out of nowhere when I walked into the kitchen a few weeks ago .. it is a very big heavy lamp so if I got it on my head I had a problem.

I was in the shower a while ago and all of a sudden I thought my boyfriend was pulling my hair. I said 'you were downstairs right?' then turn around and see that no one was there.

sometimes I see a shadow or someone walking by out of the corner of my eye, but then no one is there.

the door in the bedroom sometimes flies open, always after that the standby light of my TV starts blinking. I find this the scariest, because then I have the feeling that someone is in my room.

we have only been living here since May and hopefully we will have left again next May, but until then we have to bear it here. it is very difficult this way, my boyfriend is sensitive to energies and he feels tired, limp and lifeless since living here. he was always a cheerful young man but is now very tired and exhausted.

english is not my native language and i translated this with google translate so sorry for mistakes :)

Besides the door flying open part everything you mentioned has happened to us in our home too. Whatever is here just also likes turning on electronics in spaces they could never ever accidentally be turned on. Let me know if you find anything that helps! Hope you find some peace.

I'm no expert... the translation was great by the way... I thought 'linds' was 'lids' which is appropriate for the situation. I would start by gridding things. Putting coins or pebbles in the corners of the property and rooms as much as possible. Burn some sage, the intention is protecting your space. Then have a intuitive and priest come over to help clear the space.

I mean my resolve to this would be carry a nerf gun at all times. If it is ghosts bless the darts with holy water and you're good 🍀

Look up the auto-kinetic effect. In a sensory phenomena. In darkness the eye sometimes tend to dilate in a way not to get over exposed, which can make dark places much darker and light places lighter even though nothings actually changed. Lots of things can trigger it like fear, surprise, focus etc. This usually explains small shadows we see in the corners of our eyes. Other than that, this seems pretty scary. Update us if anything more happens! Stay safe.

I always wondered why my eyes did this! knew there had to be something physiological behind it.

the washing machine could be a faulty switch? MAYBE... depending on age of the house, maybe the door flying open is like my door where it wont
