Experience Idk where to post this but something keeps writing on me...

It sometimes happens when I'm asleep but it usually happens when I'm awake. I can feel letters forming sentences on my body. For now, I think three different entities have written on me. I often ask questions and feel answers forming. If I talk with that "whatever" too much, my body starts pulsating since it becomes very sensitive after too much is written. During dreams, similar drawings to pentagrams draw themselves(without the help of the kinda friendly entities i ask questions to)... anyways, it's weird. I don't even know if it's anything connected to paranormal but i just wanted to ask if anyone else has experienced similar situations and if anyone knows if it's anything connected to paranormal (or if anyone knows WHAT it's connected to/means)...

I no longer practice the occult, I am now a born-again Christian - so I want to warn you, with all the deepest respect and concern, that 'asking' 3 entities questions like you are equates in the supernatural world as 'permission' to invade your space, your body - your life. But more troubling is that they have invaded your body (I believe). They may not want to go out of your body now either. I witnessed entities in my past with the occult that started out 'nice' - but as time went on, and they grew stronger, these entities made it clear they had no intentions of leaving. Most entities want to possess a body anyway and draw power off of it, and they don't care whether you want them too or not. The world of the supernatural operates on very specific rules. I advise people to know them fully before allowing any entities near them - or worse yet - in them. Your entities are drawing demonic symbols - the pentagram. I honestly am worried about what you are dealing with. Demonic possession is something only an experienced pastor/priest can deal with. I wish I could tell all the young people out there to beware when dealing with these beings - they are tricky, manipulative, and have their own goals when invading your space. I think calling them up - summoning them or in any way relating to them is disaster. Sure, you may have pleasant experiences for awhile, but eventually they WILL DEMAND their pound of flesh. At that point they become dangerous and invade your life - your body - fully, and they are extremely difficult to get rid of. I don't recommend having conversations or asking questions - cause again - in their world that equals 'permission' to invade your life, your body and to do their will.

Well, I didn't summon anything. Neither did i say i think they're "nice". I cannot NOT ask them questions since they read my mind and obviously everyone has some questions in their mind. I think one of them might've left already... but the pentagram dreams showed only before "they" started communicating... I don't know what to think about them invading my life. I know it sounds dumb and immature but I don't know if I don't want them to invade my life... anyways, since I can't get rid of them, I'll try reasoning with them.

I think you're just trying to avoid religion or religious aspects even tho it would help you.... a lot of people feel that way. It IS dumb and immature that you don't want complete bodily autonomy. BUT you may be under their spell which is why you feel that way and I hope you recognize that. Entities can do that to a person. They can affect every aspect of your life and just because you think one left doesn't mean they actually did (and may purposefully try to trick you into thinking that) and ultimately they are not your friend, you're an energy source and a tool for them. Trust me, don't try to communicate. It's going to be difficult but not impossible to have them removed. But also so you know You have literally no power or ability to reason with them bc they're already getting what they want from you based of what you say, and any attempts to do so is completely pointless and will make it worse. Contact someone to professionally sever these cords or exorcise them before it gets much worse. I hope you get help.

Oh, forgot to mention... the entities did come back and they honestly told me they're demons when i asked them. They did also try to use me but i (accidentally) ruined their plans... they told me I wasn't gonna succeed in a certain thing I'm still planning to do in the future but it's fine now...

Have you ever done a Ouija board or anything like that? When did it start happening?

No, I've always been interested in paranormal but I've never done any rituals, played any paranormal games. I've listened to a few subliminals if that counts... well, it started about at the start of this month... tbf, 2 of 3 of the "writers" are connected with the subliminals however I didn't listen to anything that included summoning them as a part of it...
