A little experience

(self.Paranormal)

I just wanna share a little experience that happened to me and my friends some years ago.

I lived in a rural area, it was so rural that the streets were dirt, and there weren't street lights. So we were walking to the main street, when suddenly a strong flash came from behind us, it was like a camera flash, but pretty strong, we all turned back to look, but there was absolutely nothing that could have made that light, no cars, no street lamps, no lightning, it was a pretty clear sky at the moment, nothing, I would have thought that I imagined that flash, but we all saw it. Has anyone experienced something like that?

I have, long ago when my ex wife and I first started dating we liked to just kinda open camp at the fairgrounds. It's a big giant open surrounded on 3 sides by forest, with a horse arena and such so it was nice to just toss a blanket down and watch the sky for a while. On one occasion we were about to go our separate ways for the night and I was giving her a hug and in the direction I was facing I saw a brilliant flash all of a sudden. Lit up the entire area, maybe 30 acres or so. Her eyes were shut and she was looking the opposite direction and swears she didn't see anything but I'm 100000% positive I did. I don't know what the time was but it was fairly late at night. We were alone and there's only one way in or out and we were at the mouth of the exit. Didn't really feel threatening as it did bizarre. No strange activity before it or after it on that night. Never did get an explanation but glad to know it's happened to others before. Rural north ga if that matters to anyone wondering.

Edit: also the weather was peaceful and calm, thus the ability to watch the stars so well.

I have actually. It was a really clear night for me too. Turned out there was flashes of lightning in the distance and for some reason we didn't hear the thunder. It wasn't until the next day that someone said there was a storm nearby
