Experience USB Cable Moved

(self.Paranormal)

submitted 2 months ago by Worried-World8384

No huge story to this one, a fairly thick USB cable that was dangling off the edge of a dining chair started swinging so heavily that it hit the chair leg (which is why I saw it - I recreated the sound after myself to see if that's what it was). It swung for ages like someone had flicked it.

This is not the first time something like this has happened (happened a few times in my childhood home that I only recently left). But it's the first time in this apartment.

I have no pets, no kids, no windows open, no air con, heating wasn't switched on, and I was about 8 feet away from the chair in question.

I tried to recreate it - I stomped on the floor, nudged the sofa near to me to see if it made the floor vibrate, I fanned the cable with the books I was carrying - nothing moved it or even jiggled it. Can't explain it, at all.

That USB cable has been lying there for about a month (I live alone, and honestly I forgot it was even there) without issue.

Weird!

This is similar to my only personal experience - for me and my friend it was one of those old memory cards for the PS3 that plugged in under your controller. It was sitting on top of our TV and it just suddenly flew across the room and hit my roommate on his leg. Same deal - no windows, no one near the item, and we couldn't reproduce it. At most it startled us a bit but we both immediately started laughing about it. There were times we felt not alone in that apartment, but that was the only direct action I ever saw and it was mostly a running joke to us.

Oh wow! For me this is 90% of my personal paranormal experiences. Things being flicked, thrown or just tapped. Nothing scary or violent just completely inexplicable in the grand scheme of things.

Like your friend - I've had things just get whapped off tables and land by my feet. So weird!

Yea - I think that whatever my experience was, it was part of that apartment because there were a couple other small things (dogs staring at things that we couldn't see, general feelings of presence, etc) and I've never experienced that stuff elsewhere. And to be honest, I'm pretty ok with not being one of these receptive types lol

The cable needs an exorcist, NOW!
